A Time of Reflection and Thanks

November is a special month. It's the time of year when the weather starts to cool, the Earth enters a period when it begins to rest from its very busy spring and summer seasons and as temperatures moderate and the days get shorter, we also begin to slow down a bit and get ready for winter, which is not far behind.

With Thanksgiving approaching, November is a great time for us to reflect on the past year and to remember the things in 2011 that we are thankful for. The past year may not have been what you hoped for or it may have been better than you had hoped. Whatever the case, I think we can all find something in this past year that was special to us and made us smile.

I personally had great expectations for 2011 which were dashed early on and it became one of the most challenging years of my life. However, as difficult as it was, I can still think of things to smile about and be thankful for. Many things. I hope as you reflect over the past year, no matter how challenging it may have been, you are also able to remember those times you smiled and be thankful for them.

Happy Thanksgiving!
